

March 15, 2015

Dear Sir or Madam:

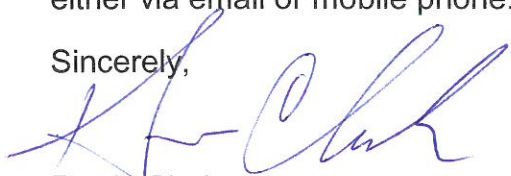

My name is Derric Clark and I am Program Champion of Game Studies and Game Design Professor at the University of Advancing Technology (UAT). I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Derek Sinex, a student of mine at UAT. I teach in the areas of game design, game production, and game development and Derek shows passion, skill, and dedication in these areas.

I have had the pleasure of instructing Derek in the field of game design, production, and development through many courses and Derek excels within the classroom environment. His dedication to his academic studies and to the craft of game development is apparent in his attention to detail and aptitude in the field of game development. Derek's work is consistently at the top of the class and his ability to synthesize complex material shows in his project outcomes and assessments. Derek is always willing to participate in classroom discussions and activities and his participation is always welcome. Derek's insight and perspective on topics benefit the discussion as well as the students involved.

Beyond the classroom environment, Derek shows an aptitude for game development as well as an inspiring level of external experience and perspective and thrives in the collaborative environment that defines game development. Derek makes himself a valuable member of the development team, sharing his experience freely and mentoring those around him to make everyone better. Derek has the drive and skillset to complete projects within scope and production timeline constraints and consistently delivered high quality work for the good of the project.

I feel fortunate to have gotten to know Derek through my interactions with him, both inside and outside of the classroom setting and feel he will make a significant impact on the game industry. Derek's passion for game development is refreshing and it has been my pleasure to be a part of his education. Derek shows determination to build positive gaming experiences and this determination speaks volumes about his personal character and professional accountability. When I was personally recruiting a game team, Derek was at the top of my list of potential candidates because of the positive impact he would have on the project and the team members involved as well as the wealth of knowledge and skills he brought to the project. If you have any questions feel free to contact me any time either via email or mobile phone.

Sincerely,

Derric Clark
Program Champion Game Studies
dclark@uat.edu - 480-297-9970

www.uat.edu

